SUBJECT: Updates and Well Wishes

As we continue to navigate the challenges of the last few months as a company, we hope that each of you is doing well and taking care of your physical and emotional well-being. We know that it hasn't been easy and that these challenging times may continue. The continued increase in COVID-19 cases in our community is concerning to all of us. For those who have been personally impacted, we have no doubt it's scary.

Every day, we all have the opportunity to lead by example. We have the opportunity to do the right thing, even when no one is watching. We have the opportunity to help others and our community. We know that the MSA family is doing all of this – and we thank you for that.

As you may have read in the earlier message from Brian Vance, the Hanford Site will remain in Phase 1 of remobilization next week. In addition to our essential staff who have been keeping the site operational, we will continue to support training, minor construction activities and support the needs of other contractors.

Everyone that has recently returned to work or that have been reporting to work has quickly adapted to the necessary safety protocols – thank you. We also want to say thank you to those who continue to telework and those who are waiting to remobilize – while none of this is easy, your willingness to work together and continue to promote our safety culture is appreciated and does not go unnoticed.

As always, we encourage our workforce to ask questions, watch out for one another and remain vigilant. If you see something, say something. We're here to support you.

Don't forget....wash your hands, maintain your distance, and wear face coverings.

Bob Amy
