MSA MAKES YEAR-END DONATIONS TO NON-PROFITS

RICHLAND, Wash. – Mission Support Alliance (MSA) is proud to announce a series of year-end charitable contributions in support of the Tri-Cities community. MSA will purchase a pediatric stander to help with critical therapeutic care for the Children’s Developmental Center. A contribution made to Second Harvest Tri-Cities will provide 25,000 meals to those in need in our region. Donations will also be made to Habitat for Humanity, Domestic Violence Services and the Tri-City Union Gospel Mission.

MSA President Bob Wilkinson understands the importance of giving back. “The holiday season is a joyous time for many, but for those less fortunate, it can be incredibly challenging. We hope that these contributions will help to make this time of year a little brighter for many in need by providing food, shelter and necessary services. The MSA family is honored to be a part of this community and to be able to make a difference.”

MSA also gave employees the opportunity to direct donations through their 30 Days of Caring program. MSA employees were able to nominate a non-profit organization. Every day in November one nomination was randomly chosen, and MSA made a donation to the non-profit in the employee’s name. An additional donation will also be made to the organization that received the most nominations.

Nearly 25 organizations will receive their donations from MSA’s 30 Days of Caring, including: Domestic Violence Services, Tri-City Union Gospel Mission, Benton Franklin Humane Society, Chaplaincy Health Care, Alzheimer’s Association, YMCA of Greater Tri-Cities, Disabled American Veterans and many more.
